The Staff Training and Research Institute of Distance Education (STRIDE), IGNOU is organising a UGC approved 6-day Short Term Professional Development Programme entitled "Design & Development of e-Content for Online Learning and MOOCs" from 29 January 2024 to 3 February 2024. We are writing to you to nominate teachers and academics for the aforementioned programme. The Flyer of the workshop is attached for reference.

The workshop will enable the participants to improve their skills on various tools and techniques essential for the design and development of e-Content for Online Learning and MOOCs. Specifically, it will expose participants to curriculum design and instructional design principles and empower them to utilise popular software tools for learning management and development of e-Content.

The workshop will be led by a team of experienced educators and instructors from IGNOU, and other Central Universities / National Institutions. Participants will have the opportunity to learn from experts in the field and to share their own experiences during the workshop.
